Police Court, this morning. The young man's father, David O. Fursald, as assessor of the City of Manchester, N. H., was present. He testified that on the date in question he authorized his son to draw on the New Hamoshire Trust Co. for $500.
Almost immediately afterwarts he learned the boy had run away with the wife of a Manchester hotel keeper, and was bound for Europe. Thereupon he wrote countermanding he instructions, but too late to prevent his son from getting the money and starting for Europe. On this testimony Justice Kilbreth said it was evident there was no or minality attached to the transaction so far as young Furnald was concerned, and he would discharge him.
No sooner, however, had the young man reached the sidewalk in front of the transaction to far as followed the court House, than a central office detective tapped him on the shoulder and asked him to take a trip down

The young man did not seem surprised but walked aff with the detective without waiting for his father. The officers were reticent on touching the last arrest, but from fragments of their conversation it seems that while on his trip to Europe, the young man forced his attentions upon two young sodiety women, one from Chicago and the 'other from Boston.
They permitted his attentions to while reaching the 'other side it is alleged that the Chicago woman missed $3,000

West of us lay the opening of the fjord, which had barred our northern advance. Worthwest stretched sleping red-brown bluffs, with a flat shore, reaching to the water's edge. The resemblance of these bluffs to the eastern shore of McCormick bay was very striking.

Close at hand a single, isolated ice cap created these bluffs, but d sappeared in the middle distance, and beyond that the shores, which stretched far away to the northeast, were free of snow, and the summit free of ice caps. The bay itself beyond the glacier face seemed perfectly smooth, and far out in its center a clouded appearance showed the beginning of the process of disintegration in the formation of water pools upon the surface.

The Political Outlook.

The political correspondence which we publish in another column from the Philadelphia Provis full of encouragement for the Republicans The writer, Mr Gibson, is a very conservative man, one who never indulges in rambow thasing, and being where he is in close touch with the party leaders is able to make a careful and very comprehensive study of the situation While the Democrats have been boasting of what they are going to do, the Republic cana have been at work end the result is most satisfactors the registration in New York is now complete and the figures have caused much darm in the Democratic ranks in question, spite of their efforts to keep up a bold front In the city the figures were far below what was expected by the Democrits. Four some time they have predicted a majority of from "5 000 to 80,000 for Chyeland in the city, but this was based on an estimated registration of 120,000 The ictual figures are 109 83 k and allowper cent for the fall-off in the vite cast as compared with the registration the vote of the city will stand at about 288 000. This unexpected drop knocks a fremendous hole in Cleveland predicted in pority. In the interior of the state the registration is such as to give assurance of a large Republic in vote and when the Republicans come out in the in terior the state is usually all right

The reports from Connecticut are full of hope for the Republicans, and in fact me conservative Democrats now concede that the State will be found in the protection column this year. In Indiana the Pepublicans express the opinion that Harrison will have a larger majority than he received four years ago. In New Jersey the fight is so close that the Democrats have sent out the word to sacrifice the State ticket if necessary to save the elecfor all vote for a leveland fu view of all these facts the Republican National Com-imittee fiel very confident of the result, and unless the members are badly deceived nest fuesdar will mark another great victory for the party of protection to American industry

Wilmington, Del., Nov. I. Delaware votes next Tuesday for the first time under the Australian ballot systems. The Democrate look upon the lawas favorable to their success. The Wilmington registration foots up 14,389. Conservative Republicans estimate that this indicates a majority for that party in this city of at least 1000. Such a majority in W lunington would make the State close but the electoral vote. A conservative Democratic estimates Wilmington to the Republicans by from 100 to 200 majority. If it talls as low as that the electoral vote of the State will almost certainly go to Cievelard. "It would be airange indeed," said Chairman Murphy, the other day, "if the total registration in New York city does not exceed 325,000" But the total is only 398,830, an increase of only 23,288 over 1884. The Democrats must necessarily look for their majorities in these two cities.
Harrison had 85,404 majority above the Harlem river in 1888 and Cleveland had 71,031 below. It is very evident from the registration thus year that in proportion

Some of the Republican wards show a small decrease, but so do many of the strong Democratic wards. This does not look like a Democratic victory.

The District shows a decline of 3,000 District shows a decline of 3,000 as compared with 1888, though last year it is showed an increase of 600 over the previous year. Some of the districts have been changed and it is difficult to make comparisons, but it is very evident that many Democrats do not intend to vote this year. The total registration in the city yesterday was 37,667, as compared with 46 606 on the last day in 1891. Evidently Tammany is less interested in Cleveland than in Flower.

There is generally about 8 per cent of the voters who register who do not go to the polis. This means a total vote in New York of 285,000, and on such a vote according to all precedent, the Democrats in

In Brooklyn on a total vote of 154,108 the Democratic plurality was 12,455. This year the vote may be 23,000 greater, and it the Democratic majority is correspondingly increased, it will still leave the Republicans with a good sized plurality in the State if they 40t, their own above the Harlem without making any guins.

The question then is what does the registration show above the Harlem. Albany is one of the Democratic strongholds. The registration is 26,200 as compared with 27,494 in 1888, a decline of 1749, while Cleveland's majority was only 1075 there in 1888. Troy, where Chairman Murphy of the State Committee lives, shows a gain of only 200 over 1888. Greene country, another carried by the Democrats, shows a small gain. Steuben, which gave Harrison 2483 plurality, shows an increased registration of 2500. This is one of the counties from which the Democrats nties from which the Democrats
